WASH INSPECTION

SUPERVISORS WILL LOOK OVER GROUND PREPARATORY TO CONSIDERING PROTESTS

The members of the board of supervisors of Los Angeles county will meet tomorrow, Friday, at 9 a. m. at the dairy on the San Fernando road southeast of Tropic and from there they will proceed to the district of the Verdugo wash, and then they will follow the wash north and east through Tropic and Glendale to the source of the wash in the vicinity of Montrose.

This procedure of the board has been made necessary on account of citizens of Tropic protesting against being assessed for the improvement of the Verdugo canyon wash. The board of supervisors will look the ground over for themselves, and it is supposed when they see the actual condition of the channel of the wash they will deny the protest, and advise the improvement proceedings to be pushed along as rapidly as possible.

All citizens of this community who can see the importance of speedy action being taken in improving the wash, are invited to be present with autos tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock for the purpose of advocating the great need of improving the wash.

TROPICO

The Ladies' Aid of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Tropic, of which Mrs. Rose is president, tendered a farewell reception to Rev. and Mrs. S. W. Carnes Tuesday evening. The social hall of the church was aglow with pink and white blossoms and these dainty colors also predominated in the color motif of the delicious refreshments. Mrs. Eustace Benton Moore and Miss Anna Anderson delighted the large company with readings. Mrs. T. J. Meagher and Dr. O. P. Lucas furnished a delightful musical program. Rev. and Mrs. Carnes will remain in Tropic until after the third of November, when they will move to Alhambra.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. La Fountain having sold their property on Acacia street, will go to Los Angeles for future residence.

After a residence of several years in Tropic, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Blair have disposed of their property on Acacia street and will return to Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ehmke of Gardena avenue left for New York, where they will reside. Mr. Ehmke has exchanged his Tropic property for property in Florida.

At a meeting of the auxiliary of the Florence Crittenton Home held Wednesday and of which Miss Hickman is one of the board of managers, Mrs. Ralph W. Meeker was chosen vice-president and also selected to assist Miss Hickman in the large bazaar which will be given in January, when the Florence Crittenton Home will be moved from the present location on Santee street to the handsome new $50,000 home on Thirty-third avenue and Griffin.

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR LAD OF EIGHT

One of the prettiest children's parties given in the valley for some time was the one which celebrated the eighth birthday anniversary of Master Earl Clemons, Jr., only son of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Clemons, 134 West Eulalia street.

Games and out-of-door frolic were enjoyed by the little tots until about four o'clock, when they trooped into the dining-room to partake of a real picnic and white tea party served at one large table, whose center adornment was a huge frosted cake with blazing candles. Those seated about the festive board with Master Earl and his prize-winning cake were Jerome Lawton, Charles Phillips, Jr., Billy Finley, Junior Chapman, Elmo Finley, Bridwell Martin, Floyd Carmack, Claire Sharp, Herbert Sharp, Gertrude Ashton, Ellen Ashton, Doris Cook and Clarence Good.

MRS. WESTLAKE ENTERTAINS AT DINNER AND CARDS

Pink cosmos and fern were used by Mrs. C. S. Westlake in embellishing her home, 1458 Oak street, one evening recently when she entertained a few friends at dinner and cards. A low mound of the same blossoms centered the table, which was later deserted for Five Hundred. Those who enjoyed this informal evening with Mr. and Mrs. Westlake were Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. McKenney, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Carvel, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Clemons and Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hewes, the latter having won the prize awarded for highest score.

INTERESTING CONTEST

GLENDALE BAND TO ENTER THE LISTS AT SANTA MONICA NEXT SUNDAY

The Glendale band boys are practicing overtime this week for the "concord of sweet sounds," in which Santa Monica puts on something different in the way of contests next Sunday afternoon at the Fraser pier at 1:30. Nine bands, some of the finest drilled and uniformed musical organizations in the state, will compete for three cash prizes. Each band will select two pieces from a program arranged by one of the big musical firms in Los Angeles.

L. E. Behmer, the noted Los Angeles impresario; A. F. Frankenstein, director of the Orpheum orchestra, and Dr. W. H. Levensgood, of Santa Monica, at times director of the Santa Monica band, will be the judges of the contest. The bands already agreed to try for the prizes are the Glendale band, the Pacific Electric railway band, the Los Angeles railway band, the Odd Fellows band, the Examiner band, and bands from Sawtelle, Whittier, Pomona and Wilmington.

The contest will be one of the musical events of the year, considering the high grade of the participants and the quality of the program contributing to the contest concert. For the grand finale, the combined bands will play the national air.

ILLEGIBLE WRITING

To those of our literary contributors who are furnishing poorly written copy, and who are consoling themselves that all great men are poor penmen, should remind themselves of the fact that all poor penmen are not great men.

Illegible writing is the cause of many errors, and requires much additional time to study out the meaning it is intended to convey.

It should be the aim of teachers in public schools to teach boys and girls to write legibly. "Writing" is a means of conveying on a written or a printed page, by the use of characters, the thoughts of a writer. Whenever writing becomes so illegible that the thoughts of the author or writer are not clearly conveyed, there is a great injustice done to those who are expected to read such writing.

OPTIMISM IS NEEDED NOW

While it is an established fact that the dreadful war drenching European fields is having a deleterious effect upon this country, and will so continue to affect America, the damage caused here may be neutralized in great measure, while its ill effects would be intensified greatly, if Americans, forgetting their self-sufficiency, relapse into fear and hoard their money away from useful channels of business.

The call of the hour is for manly, courageous, typically American optimism that believes supremely in the resourcefulness of America and of Americans, that paints a rainbow on the clouds of adversity and pushes forward to find the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow—the only kind of rainbow chasing that really finds the real pot of gold.

General conditions in this country are sound. Affairs are being readjusted swiftly to meet changed conditions created by the trans-Atlantic war. This nation and people are making the best of a deplorable situation and are succeeding at it astonishingly.

In the midst of this rehabilitation of the nation's activities, do not throw a wet blanket over the general enthusiasm by emitting raven-croaks of dismay and despair and depressing sighs of pessimism. Hang your pessimism from the yard-arm or back it up against the wall and shoot it on the instant, without waiting until sunrise, and deny it the benefit of clergy.—Long Beach Press.

MINISTERS IN POLITICS

In Wednesday's issue of the Evening News a column of plate reading matter was used in the hurried hour of getting ready to go to press on time. The purpose of the person who had prepared the article was to bar ministers of the gospel from taking part in politics.

The editor of The News does not agree with the sentiments expressed in the article referred to above. He believes that we want good level-headed men to conduct the political affairs of our country. It makes no difference to what profession or calling these men belong. They may be carpenters, painters, farmers, physicians, ministers, school teachers, lawyers or merchants, just so they are honest, well-meaning men of fair intelligence. These qualifications should be the only requirements.

INDUSTRIAL DISTRICT MATTER BEFORE BOARD

RESIDENTS IN PROPOSED DISTRICT PROTEST TO TRUSTEES—RAILROAD COMMISSION WILL MAKE REPORT SOON—ORDINANCE ENFORCING CLEANING OF VACANT LOTS WILL BE ENFORCED—SUPERVISORS WILL COME TO GLENDALE TO INSPECT THE VERDUGO WASH DISTRICT

At the regular weekly meeting of the board of trustees held Tuesday evening all members were present.

A communication from the Public Service Bureau at Berkeley offering its services to the city, was referred to the city manager.

A written protest from Miss Winifred Marr objecting to the assessment district as now formed for the improvement of a portion of Canada boulevard, was referred to the city engineer. Miss Marr expressed her willingness to be assessed for the improvement of Canada boulevard as a whole when there is a reasonable certainty that the improvement will remain unimpaired.

Roberts & Echols were granted a permit to sell milk.

Chief of police reported a leave of absence granted H. M. Miller from October 12 to Nov 3 without pay.

A protest by Amanda Fenton objecting to the extent of the boundary of assessment district in connection with the protection work and building of Verdugo wash bridge across Canada boulevard, were referred to the city engineer and city attorney.

A protest was read signed by W. B. Crocker, I. N. Hall and others against the placing of any lumber yard, factory or other industrial establishment in the block south of First street and west of Glendale avenue. Judging from the expressions given the subject by interested persons present, it was the sentiment of the people that it would result in a general benefit to the city to secure an industrial district farther from the center and to confine all industrial plants to that district, that the people were willing to give the concerns now located here time to move till an industrial district such as is desirable can be established. Mrs. Tight, speaking for the protestants, said it was the sentiment to leave the present establishments unmolested, but they wanted no additional ones. This matter was referred to the committee of the whole.

The manager of the Public Service department, H. B. Lynch, came before the board with a query as to whether it would be satisfactory to sell water bonds at par with accrued interest and received a unanimous affirmative reply.

On motion of Trustee Tower, Mr. Lynch was instructed to secure bids for a runabout for the use of the public service department.

City Attorney W. E. Evans presented a report of the hearing before the railroad commission relative to the grades on Brand boulevard at Chestnut and Seventh streets. He said there were present quite a representation of citizens residing in the neighborhood of these crossings, who testified in the case, including the city engineer, chairman of board of trustees and city manager. The matter has been taken under further consideration by the commission and that the prospects for relief are good.

The city attorney also reported that according to a communication received from Mr. E. P. Thom, the owners of property abutting Glendale avenue are ready to make conveyance to the city of Glendale of the thirty-foot strip along the right of way of the Salt Lake railroad. The city engineer suggested that a warrant be issued to E. P. Thom to secure satisfaction in condemnation proceedings in the opening and widening of Doran street to the amount of $390.13 collected from the district and it was so ordered.

Tuesday, October 26, at 8 p. m., was the time set for hearing of objections to the improvement of Opechee way, as well as the extent of the district for the assessment of the cost of the work, and the city clerk was instructed to inform the protestants in both the cases of the Canada boulevard work and Opechee way improvement of the time for hearing.

The city engineer, Ed M. Lynch, presented plans and specifications for the improvement of a portion of Bena way and a resolution to that effect was introduced, read and adopted.

The city manager, T. W. Watson, referring to the ordinance prohibiting the keeping of inflammable weeds on lots within the city of Glendale inquired as to the desire of the board with respect to immediate enforcement of the ordinance. He said a number of property owners have readily acted on the provision without a notice, but for the purpose of putting the ordinance into effect, notices will have to be sent out and in the case of non-compliance within ten days from the mailing of notice, the city can have the lots cleaned at the owner's expense, though it would mean an expenditure out of the city's funds until it could be collected back from the property owners. On motion of Trustee Grist, the city manager was instructed to proceed under the ordinance immediately.

The city manager reported on the question of improving the roadway to land purchased by the city as a refuse ground in Verdugo canyon, the arrangements being that the city appropriate $500 and the people owning property along the roads raise $500 for the purpose, the people's share now being deposited with the Bank of Glendale. A resolution appropriating this sum was adopted.

An ordinance relating to the keeping of garbage and waste matter was adopted.

The city attorney stated that according to an appointment the board of supervisors of Los Angeles county will be in Glendale next Friday morning to view the district of the Verdugo wash and the property thereby affected. About 4300 people are affected by the proposed storm water district improvement, 1500 of whom have made protest against it. The board of trustees although not obligated in their official capacity as a board, yet in the interest of Glendale, should make every effort to point out to the board of supervisors the merits of the case and do all in their power to bring the matter to a successful issue.

The city manager was directed to communicate with Mr. Pridham, to fix hour and place of meeting, and publish the same in the Glendale Evening News at once for the benefit of all interested parties.

ANOTHER BIG CONTRACT LET TO GLENDALE PEOPLE

Mr. Jacob Fink of this city has secured the contract for the interior decorating of the new theater, now nearing completion on Brand boulevard, and the contract for furnishing the material has been let to the Glendale Paint and Paper Company.

Mr. Fink has devoted many years to interior decorating and scenic painting, both in the East and in this state, where he is regarded as an artist in his profession by people who should know, and we are glad to learn that he as a citizen of our city has had the good fortune to receive "home" recognition.

As for the material, the Glendale Paint and Paper Company, always up to date and fully awake to the increasing needs of our rapidly growing community, will be able to meet all competition. While its name and credit is a foregone guarantee that everything used on this work will be of the best of the world's market affords.

BROTHERHOOD MEETING

The Brotherhood meeting at the Methodist church this (Thursday) evening is an important one. Election of officers will take place. All men of the congregation are invited to be present. The usual time, 7:45 p. m.

OUR GRAND BUSINESS

SPEECH OF MRS. MATTISON B. JONES, PRESIDENT TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB

"Our grand business is not to see what lies dimly in the distance, but to do what lies clearly at hand."

Members of the Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale: With your permission, I shall discuss this subject from two viewpoints:

First. The relation of our club life to our home life.

Second. The service of loyal members in successfully conducting the affairs of our club.

Life today, and every day, is business; and if we conduct our homes to the best of our ability, we are endeavoring to carry on a grand business. The home, of course, is looked upon as man's kingdom, wherein he is supposed to be the ruling power and his wife the queen over all his kingdom. Now, this kingdom should also be a haven of rest and satisfaction for its lord and master. When he comes home tired from business strain and, perhaps worry, the queen of the household should be ready to at least divert his mind with a few of the good things she hears at the club—and she can learn much if she listens.

She should never stoop to complaining, and telling all the little petty annoyances which she has imagined are aimed personally for her, and thus give her husband and children the impression that women's clubs are always fussing, for such is not the case—at least, not in the Tuesday Afternoon Club.

We have seven study departments in our club, which should enable any woman to cultivate and train her mind that she may be a better conversationalist and so posted upon affairs that she may both talk and listen intelligently to things that concern her husband. These departments are literature, music, art, Shakespeare, domestic science, legislative, parliamentary usage, public affairs and civics.

Our club also holds membership in four philanthropic organizations, and we also have a chairman of emergency for our charity work, so we are not neglecting those less fortunate than ourselves.

Our club lessons should teach any woman to become a better wife and a better mother. Some women of today often say they have no time for clubs. Let me say right here to those who bear the sacred name of "mother" that they are not fitted to train the child of today if they shut themselves between four walls and make of themselves household martyrs. Such a woman may be able to train her child to be honest, or not to eat with his knife, or the correct bearing when in company, but the mother of today who does not associate generally with her fellow beings, knows very little of what goes on in the world, and is looked upon as a back number by her child as he grows older and sees more of the world himself.

Her vocabulary and perhaps even her grammar become deficient, and her mind fails to grasp situations that should be met by the mother of the present day. She often becomes careless in her personal appearance and allows her children to become slovenly and indifferent, while the husband, who through the day may mix with live, progressive people, must kindly tolerate the atmosphere of indifference he finds at home.

Of course there are some grand mothers who are exceptions to this example, and who never saw inside a real progressive woman's club, but they are also exceptional women.

A woman's home is her world and she should lose no opportunity to broaden her mind and her perspective of life, so that she is at least worth looking at and talking to by a tired man.

Also her home should be the paradise of her child. She can make of it a place where the child merely exists, or by her own influence she can do what all the schools in the world may fail to do, and that is the instilling of culture into the young minds, line upon line and precept upon precept, by her own daily life and example. No woman should spend more time at the club than at home, for that is the worst extreme of all. Too much culture at the expense of proper attention to the home is a superfluity, to say the least.

However, if all club activities should suddenly cease, and a million club women should drop the good influence they have exerted along the lines of improving themselves and mankind generally, American progress would surely be crippled. Credit is due club women in many states for schools, parks, playgrounds, humanitarian reforms, abolition of child labor, liquor traffic, and prostitution. We have over 30,000 federated club women, twelve in (Continued on Page 4)

ELKS MAKE MERRY

CASA VERDUGO IS THE SCENE OF A BIG AFFAIR OF THE LOCAL ELKS

Casa Verdugo was filled to overflowing Wednesday night when, as guests of the Glendale B. P. O. E., brother Elks from Los Angeles, San Pedro, Santa Monica, San Fernando and Pasadena, over three hundred members of the popular organization enjoyed a wonderful time together.

The guests were cordially welcomed by our own popular and highly esteemed exalted ruler, William Herman West, who had very little trouble keeping the ball of amusement rolling, as it were.

A stage had been especially erected for the occasion and besides a professionally contributed program of singing, dancing, quartets, etc., two boxing bouts, impromptu speeches and a well-appointed supper were enjoyed. Merriment, good fellowship and good cheer reigned the entire evening, and as is customary, the 11 o'clock toast was given by Prof. Ewing, exalted ruler of the Pasadena lodge, at the appointed hour.

Wednesday night's entertainment adds just another "tip-top" affair to the many delightful social obligations already given by the local order of Elks.

LARGE RECEPTION

At 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon of next week a large reception, to which the general public is cordially invited, will be held in the Hotel Alexandria, Los Angeles, for Congressman and Mrs. Charles W. Bell and Congressman and Mrs. W. D. Stephens of Los Angeles. All women are especially invited to attend this large affair, which will afford a splendid opportunity to meet the different women interested in the civic progress of today.

MADAME ROBBINS SINGS AT ANAHEIM

At a delightful concert given at the beautiful new high school auditorium at Anaheim Wednesday evening, Norma Rockhold Robbins of this city, who is vocal instructor at the College of Music, University of Southern California, gave two groups of the program, and was most enthusiastically received. Her number were chosen with the idea of interesting the younger students, and the number of recalls received testified to her entire success with the large audience of both old and young.

NEUTRAL NATIONS MAY JOIN WARRING ARMIES

Skirmishes in Northern France and Belgium are believed to be preliminary to a big battle. The German hold Lille and it is thought they are massing for a new drive toward Durkirk and Calais after the hoped-for capture of Ostend. The allies are said to have made slight advance along the Meuse.

The Teutons are advancing a great force in Central Poland and are almost at the gates of Warsaw. A patrol of Cossacks near that city are reported to have brought down a German Zeppelin.

An interesting development of the struggle is the fact that Portugal may soon cast her fortunes with the allies in a declaration of war against Germany, and that Italy's neutrality is weakening and she will eventually take sides against Germany.

It also seems inevitable that Turkey will be drawn into the strife against the Germans, and in the case it is likely that Greece and Roumania will join the allies.

England is waiting developments in South Africa with bated breath.

ORGANIZE FREDERICKS CLUB

Mrs. David T. Forbes of Los Angeles was in Glendale today and organized an auxiliary to the Women's Fredericks Club of Los Angeles for the women of Glendale, Tropic, Burbank and Eagle Rock, with the following officers: Mrs. John Robert White, president; Mrs. Martha C. Button, first vice-president; Mrs. F. E. Chase, second vice-president; Mrs. Charles H. Toll, secretary, and Mrs. R. A. Peterson, treasurer. A large number of Glendale ladies joined a charter members of the club.

The first meeting will be held on Wednesday afternoon, October 23, at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. White, 101 Orange street. The speakers will be Mrs. O. P. Clark and Mrs. Wm. Bauerheit of Los Angeles and Mrs. Calvin Hartwell of Pasadena.

All ladies interested will be most welcome at this meeting. Some who have left footprints in the sands of time seem to have tried to cover them up so that other could not follow.

All members of the club are cordially invited and will be most welcome to attend.

ANNOUNCEMENT

A meeting which should be of unusual interest to the citizens of this city will be held Friday evening, Oct. 16th, at the Glendale Union high school under the auspices of the Glendale Parent-Teacher Federation, the president, Mrs. Charles H. Toll, presiding. Speakers for the evening, all of whom will dwell upon the propositions to be voted on November 3, will be Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, a prominent club woman and well known throughout the state; Judge Willis I. Morrison and Judge Louis M. Meyers of Los Angeles.

MRS. McNUTT TO HOLD MEETING

Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock Mrs. P. S. McNutt, parliamentarian for the Tuesday Afternoon Club and Glendale Parent-Teacher Federation, will give a parliamentary drill at the Intermediate school on West Third street for the officers and chairmen of the various associations of Glendale.

Mrs. McNutt is well known for her ability in that line and a full attendance is expected.

L. A. CARD CLUB ENTERTAINED IN GLENDALE

At 12:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon of this week seventeen Los Angeles friends sat down to a delicious course luncheon with Mrs. D. H. Smith, who entertained in her home, 146 South Louise street.

Bouquets of chrysanthemums and roses were scattered about the house and also reposed in the center of the two large tables, which were later deserted for whist.

All of Mrs. Smith's guests were Los Angeles friends and members of a Wednesday afternoon whist club, to which the charming and gracious hostess belongs.

The trouble with winning a person by flattery is that you have to keep at it so continuously that he soon gets suspicious.

THE GIRL FROM CHICAGO

Hears About the "Trade at Home Spirit" and Meets a Few Glendale Merchants

Just after uncle had called at the garage for his auto and had started towards home, he bethought himself of the fact that he had to stop at the First National Bank. He wouldn't have had to have told me where it was, for the minute I saw the building when we turned at the corner, I made up my mind that it was the home of the leading bank in the community, for it was by far the most pretentious business block noticeable and also seemed the nearest thing to a "skyscraper" that Glendale possessed. However, I must say that the Glendale First National Bank is certainly well equipped for the carrying on of a modern banking business, and all the officers and employees seem to be extremely affable and courteous, as well as enthusiastic about their work and the future of Glendale. After spending a little time at the teller's window, uncle said he wanted to leave some papers in his safety deposit vault. Up to then I had always thought that none but metropolitan banks rented

Glendale grocer first, and asked him if he didn't want to head my subscription list. "Well," he said, "it's a good cause, and I am willing to help, but as you buy a good share of your merchandise in Los Angeles, suppose you see Blank's department store, Blank Bros. furniture store, and a few other Los Angeles concerns. Surely they are believers in the up-growth of this community. They get lots of money from this town—maybe they might be induced to get their name down for our local improvements. I tell you what I'll do. You bring that list back in a week with their name down on it for $25, and I'll put mine down there, too, for the same amount!"

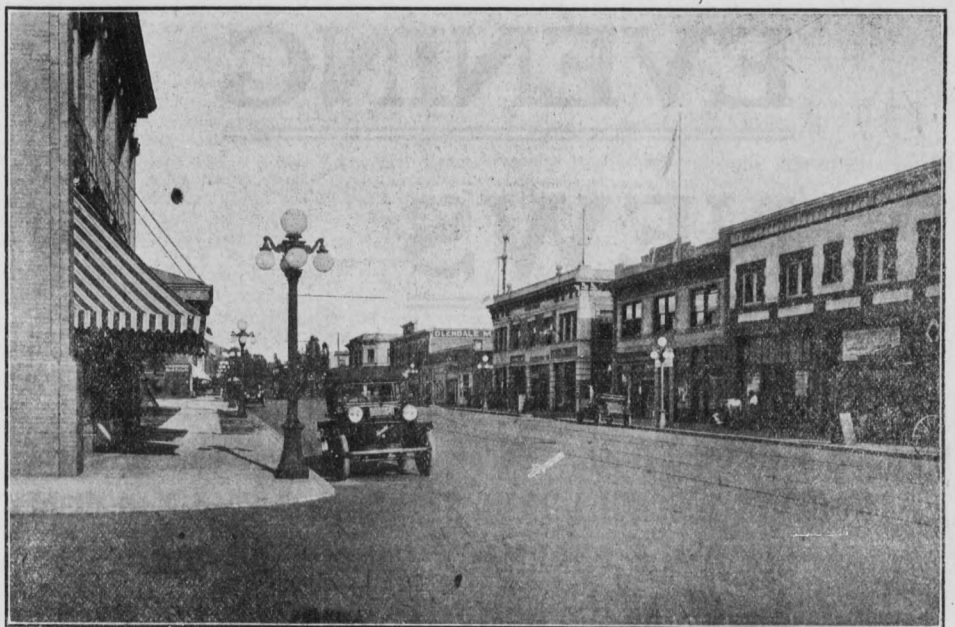

"Needless to say I did not come back, and it taught me a lesson, and I'm telling this story to show that local communities are not benefited by citizens spending their money with mail order houses or by going out of town themselves to buy. Every purchase a resident of Glendale makes away from Glendale hurts his city. He may think that he is getting the benefit of a 'bargain,' but is he?"

"It has been my observation of Glendale stores, after spending considerable money with them, that good one for advertising purposes, as every "kid" in town will remember the name "Munson, the drug man," for years to come.

Here's where I practice what I preach about "trading at home," uncle said as we left Munson's corner. We are going to get some coffee, butter and other groceries at the White Store, where they "treat you white," and sell quality groceries at the lowest prices I have as yet struck in Glendale. Being rather tired, I sat in the auto while uncle brought the "estables" inside, but even from where I sat in the machine there were peculiarities that I noticed particularly. One was the extreme clean, white appearance of the place, and the other was the fact that all the clerks were jumping around just as busy as if it were a Saturday night. Just before we left the most striking looking auto delivery drew up in front that you ever saw for a grocery store. It carried out the whole effect of the store, in that it was pure white, with exception of the black letters telling the observer that it was from "the White Store." The whole character of the store suggested enterprise and originality.

As we went up Broadway I was

safety deposit boxes, and asked to see this department. Despite the fact that they were very busy in the bank at the time, Mr. Harrison took me in the interior of the bank and showed me their large, modern burglar-proof safe, and then into the vault, which contains the safety deposit boxes and they certainly seemed secure to me, and I made up my mind that if I had any valuable papers or jewelry it would be convenient to rent a safety deposit box right here in Glendale at the First National Bank, and be sure of safety from fire or loss in any other way.

As we left the bank I mentioned the fact that I would need a new fall hat and asked when my aunt would be likely to go into the city shopping. "Why, girlie, have your Aunt Constance come with you and buy your hat here in Glendale Saturday."

"You know, niece, I have rather peculiar ideas about home trade. Up to a year ago I thought, as a lot of people out here now think, that Glendale was a pretty small place and that I could buy articles cheaper in Los Angeles. My wife thought the same, and we never really investigated to find out how the local prices compared with those in the city. This is what happened to change our views. We were raising money to pay for a new church and they put me on the committee to help solicit funds. As I had spent hundreds of dollars at one of the large Los Angeles department stores, considerable at a large furniture store, some at a men's clothing store, and also had bought a good share of my groceries in the city, it so happened I struck a goods of reliable quality can be bought here at just as low prices as they can be got anywhere else."

Uncle had promised Aunt Constance to bring her home a cough remedy, this changeable weather having given her a severe cold, and having heard of the wonderful results of "170," a cough remedy put up by Munson, the drug man, we went into this up-to-date pharmacy on the corner. It being very warm, I ordered an ice cream soda, and while eating it, noticed that the telephone rang almost constantly. Uncle noticed it, too, and said that for a place the size of Glendale, Munson's did a tremendous business over the phone, as they operated a prompt motorcycle delivery. I guess Mr. Munson must have overheard us talking, for he walked up and said: "Our telephones have been ringing almost incessantly all afternoon, the boys and girls and their mothers calling up in regard to a contest for the 'kiddies' not yet in the high school that I am having. The idea is to see how many words can be made out of 'Munson, the drug man.' To the ones securing the most words I will give the following prizes: First prize, a 3-A folding Brownie, value $10; second prize, a Thermos Kt to carry your lunch in; third prize, a dandy brush and comb; fourth prize, a two-pound box of candy; fifth prize, a pound box of candy. The contest closes in November."

"Many mothers have called up and asked for particulars and thought it would be a good thing to interest their children at home evenings."

The scheme struck me as a mighty particularly attracted by the fact that it was one of the finest streets I had ever seen. I remarked to uncle that I had never seen finer paving and that the boulevard lights were certainly swell. He said:

"One of the largest contracts undertaken on this basis was the lighting of Broadway from Everett street to Central avenue, Glendale avenue from Third to Fifth streets and the portion of Brand boulevard from Third to Sixth street. One hundred and thirty-six of the five-light standards were installed on these streets at that time. These standards are of the same substantial design as those installed on Brand boulevard above Third street. They were placed at distances of about 100 feet apart."

"Another problem confronting us at the time of lighting Broadway was the freeing of the street from all objectionable poles. This was accomplished by placing all telephone and light wires in conduits underneath the paving, and an ingenious method of placing what poles were absolutely necessary to support the trolley wires at a short distance back from the street in the alleys and parkways of the cross streets."

"Broadway, as you now see it, double tracked and beautifully paved, practically free from all objectionable poles and thickly studded with its double row of artistically designed ornamental lighting standards, presents a very gratifying and business-like appearance to the eye and brings a thrill of pleasure to the merchants having their places of business located on this gay white way."

INTELLIGENCE

"What did Noah live on when the flood had subsided and his provisions in the ark were exhausted?" asked a Washington Sunday school teacher of her class.

"I know," squeaked a little girl after the others had given up.

"Well, what?" inquired the teacher of her.

"Dry land."

OUR GRAND BUSINESS

our own state, and if all should unite on one such measure as even the red light abatement act, for which our federation stands committed to work, California should surely feel the influence for moral advancement and the welfare of our homes.

Our own club stands committed to the interest of our schools and to the betterment of our community—to art, literature, music and for the intellectual advancement of the American woman who presides over the American home. A greater membership of such clubs means a better nation.

Let us approach our own Tuesday Afternoon Club yet a little closer. The question now before us is the service of loyal club members in successfully conducting the business of our club. As we all know, the purposes of this club, according to article two in our by-laws, are: First, advancement in all lines of general culture; second, promotion of the general welfare of the community; third, acquisition and holding of real and personal property to promote the other purposes of this organization.

Our seven study sections amply prove that we are carrying out number one. Our library and numerous other things we have achieved prove that number two is being looked after, and our two fine lots on Fifth street prove that number three is not neglected. One lot is clear of debt, and over $700 paid on the new corner lot. Now, what is left for this club to accomplish?

Our grand business should be to continue along the same successful lines until the next year rolls around and so on ever after. There is much to be done in carrying out our plans for this year, and every member should count herself a committee of one to see to it that this is the best year in the club's history. I believe in the hands that work, the brains that think, and last, but not least, in the hearts that love. Let us love our work, our club and what it stands for, and success is surely ours. Let us be loyal to our club, officers, members and committees. Always speak well of your club, and if you cannot get out of it. We should have no room for "knockers." Now also in our by-laws we find in article three, section three, this rule:

"The board of directors shall act as an executive committee and have charge generally of the affairs of the club."

Now if at any time a member is not pleased with the business—mind, I say the business affairs of the club—won't you make your complaint to the board of directors and not grumble around promiscuously?

It is the earnest desire of the present board at all times to do the right thing, but of course do not think for a moment that we could run the club to suit each individual member. We may not be perfect, nor infallible, but we shall, each and everyone of us, strive for the best at all times. Bring us your good ideas and thoughts; bring us loyal support and hearty co-operation, and we shall earnestly endeavor to do all that is expected of us. Remember, our club is not a vision, but a live reality, and most of all, let us realize that we, ourselves, are the Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale.

With the same loyal support which you so beautifully gave last year, your president looks forward with great pleasure to a year of unbounded success, pleasant associations and accomplishment of the grand business which will eventually lead to our clubhouse home.

HIS SENSE OF JUSTICE

Magistrate (severely)—Horsewhipping is the only suitable punishment for you and your kind. The idea of a man of your size beating a poor, weak woman like that!

Prisoner—But, your worship, she keeps irritating me all the time.

Magistrate—How does she irritate you?

Prisoner—Why she keeps saying: "Hit me! Beat me! I dare you to hit me. Just hit me once and I'll have you hauled up before that bald-headed old reprobate of a judge and see what he'll do with you!"

Magistrate—Discharged!

REMARKABLE CASE

That was a curious instance of the law going wrong which occurred the other day in a state superior court. One William Russell, a colored man, was placed in jail for detention as an important witness in a murder case. Another William Russell, colored, was in the same jail under indictment for burglary. One morning the name of William Russell was on the list sent to the deputy sheriff as among the prisoners wanted at the court that day. It was the burglar that was wanted, but the sheriff notified the other Russell and took him to the court. When the burglary case was reached, Russell was called to the dock. The woman who was robbed identified him.

The policeman who arrested the burglar identified him. The indictment was read. The witnesses testified. The jury brought in a verdict, and the judge pronounced the sentence of two years. The prisoner vainly protested. It was not until they reached the jail again that the discovery was made that they had taken the wrong man. It was a good joke on someone, but the point is this: There is nothing so treacherous and unreliable as an eye witness, no matter how devoutly he tries to speak the truth. Circumstantial evidence, which we treat so lightly and discredit so easily, may be, after all, the strongest evidence. Possibly the courts of France are not so far out of the way in giving it precedence.

ONE WAY OUT OF IT

The young man had threatened suicide if she rejected him. And although she did, he didn't.

"Why didn't he?" was asked.

"Said he'd given his heart to her."

"What's that got to do with it?"

"Oh, he didn't have the heart to kill himself."

Artist—Dobbins, the critic, has roasted my pictures unmercifully. His Friend—Don't mind that fellow. He's no ideas of his own; he only repeats, like a parrot, what all the others say.
